

25,000 Population For Janesville. Why Not? Mass Meeting Tuesday Night

Now Is the Time for United Concerted Action by Every Citizen to Help Janesville Grow.

JOIN ORGANIZATION

The Time — Seven-Thirty; The Place — Myers Theatre; The Reason — Hear What the Speakers Have to Say — Listen to the Bands, Hear the Chorus and Be A Booster First, Last and Always.

There is nothing that succeeds like success. There is nothing a city needs to succeed but civic spirit, and Janesville should have an over supply of this, not having drawn on the reserves for some time past.

There is no reason why Janesville should not have a population of twenty-five thousand. There is no reason why this city should not be the manufacturing center of southern Wisconsin and it can be if concerted action is brought into play and every citizen becomes a booster.

Tuesday night at the Myers theatre there is to be held a mass meeting of citizens to discuss this proposition. Everyone is invited to attend the joint proposed "Boosters' Club."

The dues have been placed at a nominal sum so that all can unite their efforts and feel they have a part in boosting Janesville.

P. L. Myers has donated the use of his opera house for the meeting place. The Myers Band donated their services, in addition to the enthusiasm of the gathering and quartets of loyal citizens have agreed to sing inspiring music. It is going to be a grand gathering that you cannot fail to miss, so be present.

Just follow the band and listen to the inspiring addresses, hear the speakers of the evening, and cheer. Show your faith in the city and make your home in it by uniting your efforts with others to make Janesville what it ought to be. A city with a population of 25,000.

The committee that have arranged for this gathering is composed of Frank Crook, chairman, S. J. Jacobs, J. W. Van Buren, William Kuhlman and M. P. Richardson. Raffles have been secured for every member joining and they will be appropriate and distinctive.

It is the duty of every citizen to help in the development of the city and its interests. It is designed to promote Janesville as it never has been promoted. There are no private axes to grind but harmony will prevail. It is Janesville for Janesville citizens and a population of twenty-five thousand.

Be a booster and come. Leave all hammers and hatchets at home and unite your efforts in making Janesville a banner city. Be sure and be present to help the good work along.

INHERITS MILLIONS OF UNKNOWN FATHER

Michigan Youth Will Heir His Father's Millions With a Half Brother.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Detroit, Mich., April 14.—From poverty and the obscurity of a little country town to the possession of a fortune to the possession of a fortune for a young man, the story of the life of Elvin Les Chappelle, of Grayling, this state, within a few weeks he will receive his share of the estate left by his father, a millionaire lumberman of Wisconsin whom he never has seen. The young man's parents, Joseph Les Chappelle and Mary Taylor, quarreled within a month after their marriage. The husband left Grayling and never returned. After the birth of her son the mother secured a divorce and re-married, leaving the child with her father, Joseph Les Chappelle, who went to Wisconsin, where he engaged in the lumber business and became wealthy. He also re-married and has one son. The millionaire recently died. His estate is being wound up and will be divided between Elvin and his half brother.

WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNEY BEGAN AT LOS ANGELES

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Los Angeles, Cal., April 14.—A golf tournament to decide the women's championship of the Pacific coast was opened auspiciously today at the Los Angeles Country Club. The large and representative entry list promises one of the most notable events of its kind that has ever taken place in this vicinity. Among the participants are Miss Katherine Harley, the former national champion, and Miss Edith Cheesborough, the present holder of the Pacific coast title.

REDUCTION OF STEERAGE RATES MADE EFFECTIVE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Hamburg, Germany, April 14.—Another step in the trans-Atlantic war between Europe and Canada was taken by the Hamburg American Company today, when it announced that the steerage rate between Hamburg and Quebec was to be reduced to $22.50 instead of $30 from May.

POPE PIUS REPORTED HOLDING HIS OWN AT 5 THIS AFTERNOON

Danger From Pneumonia Is Thought To Be Over—His Temperature Has Not Risen During Day.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Rome, April 14.—At five-forty P. M. it was stated that the condition of the Pope had remained stationary during the afternoon. His temperature had not risen which was considered a certain proof that there was no trace of pneumonia and also that of the certainty of the Pope's recovery unless there are complications.

At Noon Today.

In the middle of the day the Pope had a short sleep almost uninterrupted by coughing. His temperature was slightly above 99 degrees, his pulse 85, and his respiration 26.

Early Bulletin.

Rome, 9:35 a. m. The bulletin issued by the papal authorities early today reads:

"His Holiness passed a tranquil night. Bronchial symptoms are reassuring. Temperature 99. General condition good. Signed Marchisava and Amici."

Not Pneumonia.

The pope's temperature decreased at one o'clock today to 98 degrees. The disappearance of fever is interpreted as a sign that there is no fear of pneumonia. Prof. Marchisava, on leaving the pope's apartment, after examining him said:

"I now trust that the Pope's illness will have a favorable solution if it is possible to induce the patient to take proper care of himself."

The improvement is, considered most encouraging. Last night was the seventh time since the first relapse suffered by the pope and the greatest anxiety has been caused by him increasing weakness and malnutrition.

Coughs Much.

It now appears that the excess of coughing suffered by the pope last night greatly relieved the pontiff and enabled him to obtain a long and restful sleep. Rome had been thrown into depression at the announcement of this attack and many thought the last extremity until Cardinal Merry del Val reassured them.

Temperature Decreased.

During the night the pope's temperature gradually decreased until it went down to 98 degrees. Prof. Marchisava again submitted the pontiff to a long and exhaustive examination today. He gave special attention to the condition of the heart and aorta. He was satisfied that the bronchial inflammation on the left side had not decreased.

Are Concerned.

Although the pope rested quietly during the forenoon the physicians were somewhat concerned about his increasing weakness. His heat, however, showed no symptoms of valvular lesion this morning.

Passive and Silent.

The pontiff took little notice of those around him. For the most part he remained passive and silent.

D. A. R. ELECTION SPIRITED CONTEST

Politics Filled Air About Continental Hall This Morning Before Convention Opening.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., April 14.—Politics filled the air about Continental Hall today at the opening of the twenty-third continental congress of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The biennial election of officers takes place at this meeting and as usual there is a spirited contest on for the office of president-general of the society. For the third time Mrs. William Cummings Story, a resident of New York and a leader of a powerful faction in the D. A. R., is out for the office of president-general. Her strongest opponent appears to be Mrs. John Miller Horton, of Buffalo. Still another candidate for the honor, and one who is expected to have the solid backing of the Southern delegates, is Mrs. Charles Bryan of Memphis, a daughter of Admiral Raphael Semmes. The election will not be held until the end of this week. A movement has been started among the delegates to elect Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, retiring president-general, honorary president-general of the society.

The continental congress of the daughters of the American Revolution opened today with a fight almost as sharp as President General Scott had finished her address of welcome asking for "peace and harmony."

The reading of the report of the credentials aroused a storm and many objections to rulings of the chair. A substitute motion providing for a new committee on which each of the three contending candidates for president-general should have two representatives, met with little recognition. The report was finally adopted.

The event of the day out of a routine way was President Wilson's address of welcome to the delegates, late in the afternoon.

MORGAN'S BODY LAID AT REST WITH VERY IMPRESSIVE SERVICE

Funeral Services For The Dead Financier Held Today at St. George's Church.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, April 14.—Funeral services over the body of J. P. Morgan were held at ten o'clock in St. George's Protestant Episcopal church, where he had worshipped for half a century.

Afterwards a special train conveyed the funeral party to Hartford, Connecticut, for final services at the Morgan mausoleum in Cedar Hill cemetery.

Blanketed by a covering of 5,000 red-roses, Mr. Morgan's favorite flower, the coffin left the Morgan library where the body had lain in state since Friday night shortly before ten for the church.

A vested choir of 250 voices preceded the funeral party into St. George's. Behind the choir came the clergy, then the pall bearers and then the coffin.

Fifted hundred persons, one of the most notable gathering New York has seen for many years were crowded in to the church. Admission was by card only.

So great has been the demand for tickets that many hundreds could not be accommodated. Not half of the congregation of St. George's, with whom Mr. Morgan had worshipped obtained admission.

These were the clergymen chosen by Mr. Morgan in his written instructions made some time before his death.

There were twelve honorary pall bearers selected chiefly from the cluster of men closely identified with Mr. Morgan in his career. They were: George S. Boulton, Lewis Cass, Ledyard, Robert W. De Forest, Henry Fairfield Osborne, United States Senator Elihu Root, Joseph H. Choate, Robert Bacon, George F. Baker, Dr. J. W. Markoe, Elbert H. Gary, Seth Low, and Martin W. Eaton.

The church was banked high with floral offerings, but these were only a small part of the hundreds that have poured into the Morgan home. Most of those were left behind and will be distributed to the hospitals. Among the flowers were orchids and palm leaves from the emperor of Germany, a gold maltese cross beneath a crown of palms from the French republic, a garland of violets and lilies of the valley from the British ambassador, a wreath of orchids from the Italian government.

About fifty floral pieces were selected to be taken to Hartford. There were no variations in the services from the Episcopal ritual.

"Cavalry" was sung as a solo by Harry Burleigh, the baritone of St. George's. As the funeral party left the church the choir sang the recessional, "For All They Saints Who From Their Labors Rest."

Memorial Services.

London, April 14.—A cosmopolitan congregation attended memorial services for the late J. Pierpont Morgan in Westminster Abbey today. King George was represented by Captain Sir Walter Campbell, groom in waiting, and Queen Mother Alexandra by the Honorable John Ward. Officials, diplomatic, financial, art and church circles were present in force.

Mark of Respect.

Chicago, April 14.—As a mark of respect to the memory of J. Pierpont Morgan the members of the Chicago stock exchange ceased business for fifteen minutes today during the hour of the funeral services for the financier. The Chicago board of trade suspended business fifteen minutes during the Morgan funeral also.

BELGIAN INDUSTRIES ARE ALL TIED UP BY A POLITICAL STRIKE

THOUSANDS OF WORKMEN GO OUT IN GREATEST POLITICAL STRIKE OF MODERN TIMES.

MEN LEAVE COUNTRY

Traffic Tied—Industries Crippled and Hard Times Starve All of the Nation in the Face.

Brussels, April 14.—The vast political strike planned by the Belgium socialist trade unions began at dawn today. The first workmen to take part in the movement were the night shifts of the mines and mills throughout the country. They left the various plants in charge of a few caretakers told off by socialist leaders to keep the property from deteriorating. At least 250 men laid down their tools during the morning. There were numerous exceptions to the general walkout in many districts however.

Strike Complete.

The strike is complete in such places as the mining district, but is scarcely discernible in other localities. In Brussels itself the strike must be looked for in order to be found. Probably one-fourth of the workmen engaged in the suburban factories did not report for work today. The socialist committee here estimated at 11 o'clock that 20,000 men had struck on the capital.

Cities Affected.

Reports from the provinces tell of complete or nearly complete stoppage of work at Liege, Charleroi, Mons, La Louviere and smaller cities. At Mons there are 40,000 strikers and at La Louviere 26,000, most of them belonging to the metal carriage building and tobacco trades. At the great seaport of Antwerp the strike did not appear until late in the day and then only affected a part of the dock laborers.

City Deserted.

Quivrain, Belgium, April 14.—Everything is closed here. Half the workmen have gone over the frontier into France to find temporary occupation.

In Coal Fields.

Mons, Belgium, April 14.—Of the 35,000 coal miners in this district all have quit their workhouse except 2,000, who were keeping the machinery running. All machine shops, potteries and other factories are idle.

Potteries Cease.

Ghent, Belgium, April 14.—The potteries in this neighborhood are all silent today but in the linen and cotton mills more than half the hands remained at work. The metal workers all went out but a few cement mixers are still at work.

Work Ceased.

Liege, Belgium, April 14.—Work ceased this morning in the great number of industrial concerns here and in the surrounding suburbs. It is estimated that only 1,400 workmen remained at their machines. In the national arms factory at Herstal the strike was complete. All the coal miners in this district have stopped work.

Not at Antwerp.

Antwerp, Belgium, April 14.—The strike has not affected this port in any way. Work on the docks and everywhere in the city continued as usual this morning.

Miners Out.

La Louviere, Belgium, April 14.—The miners strike here was general this morning. All the factories closed their doors except a tannery which was running in full force. The street cars were operated as usual during the forenoon as the strike of the workmen and conductors was timed to begin at seven this evening. Some attempts were made early today to cut telegraph wires in the vicinity.

Tie-Up Complete.

Charleroi, Belgium, April 14.—The suspension of work at the coal mines in this district was complete this morning. Sufficient men remained at their posts to keep the machinery in good order and the pots working. The metal workers of the vicinity have only partially quit their employment, but it is understood that tomorrow the remainder of the men in this trade will lay down their tools.

RUSH CONSIDERATION OF TARIFF MEASURE THROUGH COMMITTEE

Many Important Matters Settled at Once—Flour is to be Admitted Free But Grain Taxed.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, April 14.—With Chairman Underwood and other administration leaders still in control of the situation house democrats today began the second week of consideration of the new tariff bill in caucus. Having withstood the test of vigorous opposition to the sugar schedule Saturday the prospect was today that no material changes proposed to the bill could get enough support to be effective not excepting free raw wool against which definite opposition has developed.

Consideration of the wool question probably will not be reached for several days. "The market basket" attracted attention of the legislators today, the agricultural schedule having been reached. Wheat and citrus fruits were particular targets from some of the milling and fruit bearing states. Flour has been placed on the free list and the administration bill while a duty of ten per cent ad valorem is left on wheat.

Representatives from milling states claim that a discrimination against the millers and they proposed to make a fight either to put wheat on the free list or to place a compensating duty on flour. Opposition also developed as to the free listing of potatoes.

The senate finance committee which resumed consideration of the bill also had the same question before it, some senators proposing to place the duty of 50 cents a barrel on flour on the basis of five bushels of wheat to the barrel.

Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee was ordered to bed today by his physician who declared he had a slight fever and was in danger of a break down from hard work on the tariff bill. He may be confined for several days. His illness, however, did not interfere with his house caucus today which will work on.

Providing that 300,000 of its total shall not be used for Sherman law prosecution of farmers' co-operative organizations or labor unions the sundry civil appropriation bill was introduced today in the house. Former President Taft vetoed the bill in the last hours of his office because of the provision which characterized as "class legislation of the most vicious sort."

The bill also carries appropriations for various branches of the government totaling $118,000,000.

While not willing to make any formal announcement of his view, President Wilson let some of his callers know today that he would not object to the passage of the bill in the same form as Mr. Taft vetoed it.

President Wilson does not favor attaching general legislation to appropriation bills, but he does regard the particular provision to which objection was made as one that establishes a rule of future law with respect to labor unions or farmers' organizations.

He looks upon it much as did many members of congress as a provision effective only during the life of the bill and not as effecting substantive law.

The whole question of whether labor unions may be prosecuted for operations alleged to be in restraint of trade under the Sherman law is likely to be taken up when a revision of the anti-trust law is formally recommended by the president, and until the point is definitely determined it is said that Mr. Wilson does not believe such a provision could be regarded as class legislation.

The plan is to pass the bill and also the Indiana appropriation bill which failed of passage in the closing hours of the last congress and which has been re-introduced by a special rule to expedite passage.

RICH CHICAGO MAN SLAIN FOR REVENGE

George Dietz, Owner of Tailoring Establishment, Murdered in Mysterious Manner—Motive Was Revenge.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, April 14.—George Dietz, owner of a woman's tailoring establishment, was found murdered in his home at 733 Albion avenue early today. His head had been crushed and he is believed to have been beaten to death with a hammer which was found in the room. A letter was found indicating that revenge was the motive of the crime. Dietz was wealthy and lived alone with his wife who discovered the crime. The slayer escaped without awakening the woman.

EVELYN THAW'S BILLS ARE SETTLED BY A DECISION

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, April 14.—Evelyn Thaw's plea that her husband, Harry K. Thaw, was responsible for the clothing she bought during 1908 was disregarded today by the supreme court and a firm of outfitters was awarded judgment asking her for $3,746. The itemized account shows that Mrs. Thaw paid from $30 to $85 for a hat and as high as $350 for a gown.

THOROUGH INVESTIGATION OF FIRE WHICH CAUSED QUARTER MILLION LOSS

KING ALFONSO NONE WORSE FOR SUNDAY'S ATTEMPT ON LIFE

Attempt on His Life Fails Through Coolness of Young King of Spain.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madrid, Spain, April 14.—King Alfonso took a ride through the park this morning and warmly saluted the crowd who noisily expressed their joy that the king had escaped the bullet fired by the anarchist Rafael Allegro Sunday.

Allegro was still in a merry mood today. During his examination he forced the guards surrounding him and the interrogating magistrates to laugh at his witty comment.

Inquiry made by the police in Barcelona shows that Allegro was recently ejected from the Spanish military service on account of his suffering from nervous attacks.

He had been frequently without employment. His wife it was learned today, is a woman of noble birth.

The Attack.

Sunday King Alfonso once more narrowly escaped being the victim of an anarchist attempt against his life. Three shots were fired at the king in the streets of the capital, opposite the Bank of Spain, by a native of Barcelona, Rafael Sanchez Allegro, who was immediately overpowered.

King Alfonso owes his escape to his own courage, quickness and skilled horsemanship. Accompanied by his staff, he was riding along the Calle de Alcalá, returning from the ceremony of swearing in recruits, when a man sprang from the sidewalk and seized the bridle of the king's horse with one hand, presenting a revolver point-blank with the other.

King's Quickness Saves Life.

The king, realizing the situation, with lightning rapidity dug his spurs into his horse, which reared violently. His quickness saved his life. The bullet, instead of burying itself in the king's breast, struck the horse on the neck, but so close was it that the king's left hand glove was blackened by the powder discharge.

Before the assailant was able to pull the trigger again a secret service man sprang upon him. The two men fell to the ground looking in each other's arms, struggling furiously. The assassin managed to free his revolver arm and fired two more shots in rapid succession, but the officer knocked his arm aside and the bullets flew harmlessly through the air.

At the sound of the first shot the king's staff forced their horses on the sidewalk and made a ring around the assassin, who fought fiercely in the grip of four policemen before he was overpowered and handcuffed.

Capla, Cheer for Spain.

King Alfonso, as soon as he saw that the man had been secured, raised himself in the stirrups, turned to the crowd and gave a military salute and shouted in a ringing voice: "Long live Spain."

He then dismounted and reassured his staff, saying: "It is nothing, gentlemen."

Then arose a mighty roar from the wildly enthusiastic masses, as the king rode to the palace, cool, collected and smiling.

BOMB DISCOVERED IN THE BANK OF ENGLAND

Attempt to Blow up National Bank of England Foiled by Policeman Who Plunged Bomb Into Fountain.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, April 14.—A milk can filled with gun powder and connected with an electric fuse was found this afternoon inside the railing surrounding the bank of England. It was removed by the police.

Smoke was issuing from the can when a policeman found it. He plunged it into a fountain in the vicinity. When the can was examined a clockwork arrangement was found inside. The attempt on the bank is attributed in some quarters to the militant suffragettes.

FIRE MARSHAL THOMAS M. PURTELL AND ATTORNEY J. F. BAKER OF HIS DEPARTMENT HERE EXAMINING WITNESSES.

SUMMON OVER TWENTY

Probe Matter to the Bottom—Impression Given That Conflagration April 1 May Be More Than April Fool Joke for Someone.

That there is considerable doubt as to the origin of the fire which destroyed the stores of Archie Reid, Brown Bros., Amos Rehberg, the Olympia Fruit Company and Miller & Schubert and many offices, aside from the buildings owned by Edwin P. Carpenter, Carpenter and Sutherland and the John Myers estate, on the night of Tuesday, April 1, is evidenced by the investigation that is being pursued today.

State Fire Marshal Thomas M. Purtell and Attorney J. F. Baker of his department are making a most rigid examination of the possible causes of the conflagration which for a time threatened the entire downtown district of Janesville and caused a fire loss estimated at a quarter to a third of a million dollars. Some twenty witnesses in all will have been examined by tonight and it is possible that the hearings may be continued tomorrow.

The spread of the flames from the store occupied by Archie Reid to the other buildings, the rapidity with which the blaze seemed to enter all the store fronts on the Milwaukee street bridge and the apparent smell of burning oil, tar or some similar substance, with the dense smoke which accompanies such a blaze, have led to the theory the fire was of incendiary origin and effected on the Fire Department Henry Klein, so intimated in his statement published the next morning after the fire.

Mr. Purtell would make no statement today beyond the fact that the investigation would be most thorough. Each witness is summoned by special subpoena issued by the fire marshal's office and served by constable William Dulin and the hearings have been conducted in the Myers Hotel and taken down by a stenographer.

HARVESTER COMPANY SETTLE THE STRIKE and Move it to Germany. Rather Than Make Terms With Strikers.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Auburn, N. Y., April 14.—Intimidation by a hundred strike pickets at the International Harvester company's twine mill prevented five hundred operatives from returning to work this morning. After sixty-eight employees had struggled through the lines of militia and entered the mill the local officers posted an order to close the mill permanently and to dismantle the machinery for shipment to Teuss, Germany. In reply to an inquiry for a positive statement as to the future of the big industry, General Manager Alexander Legg said:

"You may say that we have shut down permanently here. The machinery will be shipped at once. The machinists are now taking it apart. The buildings will probably be used for storage purposes."

The strikers evidently regarding the company's threat to move away as a bluff, continued to jeer after the whistle blew this morning and marched away laughing when the militia announced that the mill was closed.

The city, however, has finally awakened to the seriousness of its industrial situation and a mass meeting has been called for tonight. In many pulpits last night the labor agitators were denounced. Several strikers are imminent in other industries.

SEE WHAT AN ACRE OF CORN CAN YIELD

Public Invited to Address Which Will Be Given at Training School Friday and Saturday. Boys Entering Gazette Corn Contest Will Have An Interesting Lesson In Intensified Farming.

What just one acre of ground can produce when planted to corn and carefully tended to will show by several hundred of Rock county boys who are planning to enter the Gazette corn contest. As a lesson in the possibilities of intensified farming, the contest promises great things for the boys on the farms and parents are urged to co-operate in the effort to teach the boys the fundamentals of scientific corn growing.

There has been a deal of talk these days about waste on the farms and to the effect that farmers are not securing the returns which they should from the land which they cultivate. The reason is attributed to the fact that most farmers do not know exactly the best crop for a given piece of land or do not know just what quality their soil needs as a fertilizer, or they have attempted to accomplish too much for the amount of labor which they have at hand.

Intensified and scientific farming is being preached everywhere. Agricultural colleges throughout the country are sending out bulletins of information and are urging smaller farms for given crops. For some time farmers generally have been somewhat shy of this advice. They claimed it was hypothetical and impracticable. But now the sentiment seems more tolerant as some of the school ideas have proved out big, and scientific farming is now given a trial. In fact it is passed the trial stage and is firmly established.

The Gazette has had this situation in mind in starting the corn contest. By offering several prizes it is hoped that a large number of Rock county boys will become interested in some of the ideas which are being advanced regarding corn raising. It is hoped that the interest will continue beyond this year and will extend to other crops besides corn. And in order that the best advice possible may be given to those entering the event The Gazette has arranged for a series of scientific articles on corn raising written by the champion corn grower of Rock county, Noyes Reassler. Thus the same opportunity is extended to all. The same course of instruction is given and the result will depend in large measure in the fidelity with which the instructions are carried out by the contestants. Send in your entry at once to the corn contest editor stating whether or not you have the seed-corn which is required, or will buy from the Gazette at cost, one dollar an acre.

"TURKEY TROT" AND "TANGO" ARE ARTFUL, SAYS WITNESS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Chicago, April 15.—Opinions that the turkey trot and the tango and similar dances are "just what people make them" were expressed by witnesses before the Ill. Vice Commission today. Roy J. Jones, whose cafe license was revoked because of the dances permitted by him in his place, testified he saw no objection to that form of amusement.

ASSEMBLYMAN DON HALL TO ENTERTAIN LAWMAKERS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Madison, Wis., April 14.—The members of the Wisconsin legislature and the working staffs of the town houses will be the guests of Assemblyman Don C. Hall of Stevens Point, the actor-legislator, at an uptown hall next Wednesday night. Mr. Hall, who has been many years at the head of his own company in repertoire, has arranged to bring the company to Madison, acting at the request of many legislators. He has prepared a program to be rendered by the Hall Entertainment Society, Stettin, and Mr. and Mrs. Hall will give a Shakespearean reading from Richard III. A social session and dancing will follow the program.

MAY REINSTATE CADETS WHO WERE DISMISSED

West Point, N. Y., April 14.—In compliance with the recent order of Secretary of War Garrison and in conformity with an act of the recent Congress, the general court-martial which expelled four West Point cadets from the service more than a year ago for alleged intoxication recommended at the academy here today to reconsider the cases. Captain Thomas N. Darrah, 29th Infantry, is president of the court, and Lieut. David McKell, C. A. C., is judge advocate. After full consideration of each case on its merits the court will report to the War Department its judgment as to whether the original sentences should be allowed to stand or whether they should be modified.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR PUPILS OF SCHOOLS

Gold Medal Offered by Government For Best Composition on Caring For Dirt Roads.

Here is an opportunity for some boy or girl to earn a handsome gold medal offered by the government for the best composition of eight hundred words on the care of dirt roads. The following are the conditions announced:

A gold medal to the school boy or girl between the ages of 10 to 15 who writes the best composition, not to exceed 800 words, on the repair and maintenance of earth roads, is to be awarded by Logan Waller Page, Director, Office of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. All compositions must be submitted to Mr. Page before May 15, 1913, and the medal will be awarded as soon thereafter as the compositions can be graded. The composition may be based on knowledge gained from books or other sources, but no quotations should be made.

After many years' experience in dealing with the public road situation of the country, it is Mr. Page's belief that ignorance on the subject of repair and maintenance of roads is as much the cause of their bad condition as any other one factor. It is expected that the competition will bring about a better understanding of the subject of repair and maintenance in the rural districts.

Many children living in the rural districts have experienced the disadvantage of roads made impassable through a lack of proper maintenance and it is expected that their interest in the competition will stimulate greater interest among the parents. Bad roads have prevented many children from obtaining a proper education and have even prevented doctors from reaching the side of rural patients in time to save their lives.

Any child between the ages mentioned, attending a country school, may compete. Only one side of the paper must be written on; each page should be numbered, the name, age and address of the writer, and the name and location of the school which he or she is attending must be plainly written at the top of the first page. The announcement of the competition has been sent to the superintendents of schools in the rural districts. No further information can be obtained from the Office of Public Roads. This announcement should be plain to everyone, and all children will thus start on a basis of equality.

CIVIL ACTION TRIED IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Case of C. H. Burgess Versus J. H. Strimple Argued Before Judge Charles Fiffeld. The case of C. H. Burgess versus J. A. Strimple, defendant, an action growing out of the sale of a heating stove sold to the latter, was argued before Judge Charles Fiffeld in the Municipal Court this morning. Mr. Burgess acted as his own attorney, and the defendant was represented by Attorney J. J. Cunningham. The stove was paid for, according to evidence presented, but when repairs were required subsequently, the defendant withheld payment, believing that a guarantee provided for the replacement of parts that should be found deficient. A settlement was made by the contending parties.

The party planned for the primary department of the Methodist Episcopal church on the evening of Wednesday, April 15, has been postponed.

FIGURES GIVEN OUT REGARDS LICENSES ISSUED LAST YEAR

Industrial Commission Reports That Nearly Nine Thousand Saloons Were Licensed in 1912.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, April 14.—The data gathered by the state industrial commission as to the number of liquor licenses during the license year of 1911-1912 in Wisconsin were made public today. The inquiry also covered the situation respecting the wet and dry territory in the state.

The reports received from city, village and town clerks show on June 30, 1912, there were in force 8,522 saloon licenses of which number 5,425 were granted by cities, 1,117 by villages and 2,376 by towns.

The commission also collected some data regarding the convictions for crimes directly traceable to the use of liquor on violations of the liquor laws.

Drunkenness Prevails.—Fairly complete reports from the municipal judges, police justices and justices of the peace, says the report, indicate that approximately 44 percent of all convictions for crimes in 1911 were convictions for drunkenness and for drunkenness accompanied by disorderly conduct.

There were 113 convictions for sales to prohibited persons, 49 for liquor sales without license, and nine for sales in prohibited territory. From the internal revenue offices of the eastern and western districts of Wisconsin the commission obtained the names of approximately 13,000 persons to whom licenses were granted by the federal government in connection with the liquor traffic in Wisconsin. Of these 13,000 federal licenses, 12,037 were granted to retailers. Hence there were over 3,000 more federal licenses to retailers than saloon licenses granted by local governments. Accounting in part for this difference are the 756 pharmacists' permits granted throughout the state, and the 20 pharmacists selling liquor upon physicians' prescriptions in dry territory without permits. The other retailers licensed by the United States who do not hold saloon licenses from local governments are clubs and illicit dealers.

License Fee Low.—The total saloon license fees collected by local governments during the fiscal year 1911-1912 amounted to something more than $2,150,000. The average fee charged was, therefore, a little more than $240. One-half of the cities and considerably more than one-half of the villages charge only a $200 license fee. About three-fourths of the towns charge a license fee of but $100. Four cities, six villages and one town have license fees above $500.

Of the 124 cities of the state, only twelve were dry at the time of the inquiry made by the commission. Of the villages, ten were dry by vote, and two have had no application for a license in 1911-1912. The wet towns numbered 513, the towns dry by vote 234, and the towns which have never had an application for a license 436. The population of the wet territory of the state was 1,747,716, as compared with 241,665 persons living in territory dry by vote, and 344,236 persons living in towns and villages in which there have been no applications for licenses.

Conditions Improved.

In 1905 the bureau of labor and statistics collected similar data in reference to the liquor traffic in Wisconsin. It found that on January 1, 1905, there were 8,733 saloon licenses in force. The number of people per license in license territory at that time was 156. At the time of the present report, it was 196. At that time 79 percent of the population of the state lived in wet territory, as against 75 percent in 1912.

THIS GRATEFUL WOMAN TELLS WHAT CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTMENTS DID FOR HER. CHIROPRACTIC CAN DO THE SAME FOR YOU.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: "I suffered for thirteen years, suffered as only a woman can appreciate, and one year ago my physician, after calling in another physician for consultation, told me that the only way to save my life was by an operation. 'I felt that I would rather die than submit to an operation, and hearing of the success which J. N. Imlay was having with Chiropractic Adjustments was prevailed upon to let him handle my case. Though doubtful at first, I must now say that he brought about a perfectly normal condition, thus allowing Nature to bring back my health, and I would advise any woman who suffers as I did to lose no time in calling on the Chiropractor and becoming well, as I do believe that this science is the most wonderful ever known. I will cheerfully answer any letter from suffering women who write me and enclose stamp.' Mrs. L. S. Rose, R. R. No. 7, Rockford, Ill.

CARDINALS OUTCLASS WISCONSIN RESERVES

Janesville Cardinals Defeat Crack Varsity Team After a Hard Fought Game—Score 23 to 13.

Saturday night's basketball contest at the rink between the Janesville Cardinals and the Wisconsin Reserves proved to be a brilliant exhibition of playing and it was only because of speedier work that enabled the Janesville team to win by the score of 23 to 13. Both teams were evenly matched but the university boys were unable to meet the Cardinals' style of playing the last half.

The Janesville Cardinals played the best game of the season, being greatly strengthened by Falter and Edler of the championship high school team. Every player played excellent ball, each man performing his part in a way which completely baffled their opponents. Both sides resorted to the latest style of playing, having every man in the team work and guarding the man with the ball regardless of whose opponent it was. Under the intercollegiate rules the Cardinals made good progress by dribbling, but the Madison players generally blocked them before they got within shooting distance. While the game was the best played of the year the close guarding caused many long and spectacular shots to be tried and the players had very few uncovered shots at the goal. No one starred individually on either side as every player done good work. Edler, as running guard, outclassed his man and scored four baskets besides playing the floor at all stages of the game. Green, while greatly handicapped because of his stature, played a star game and with his lightninglike quickness scored five baskets. Langdon, at center and Cunningham at forward, played the best game of the season. Falter at guard also played a whirlwind game and his close guarding was one of the features of the game.

The Wisconsin Reserves was composed of the stars of the university squad, among who was Sands, sub forward on the varsity team. They were the best passing team seen on the local floor this year and knew the game throughout. Neuprud, at center, was a star man, playing a hard fought game.

First Half.
One the tip off Madison obtained the ball and it zigzagged down the floor until Falter dribbled up the floor and scored on a sensational long shot. Throughout this half close guarding kept both teams from scoring and many impossible shots were attempted. Edler outplayed his man and caged a hard angle shot. For the Reserves, Sands starred but only scored one basket over Falter. The score at the end of this period was 10 to 8 in Janesville's favor.

Second Half.
The Wisconsin players came back strong and it was seven minutes before either side scored. Edler scoring after a long dribble. From then on the Cardinals outclassed their rivals in every department of the game and accurate basket shooting by Edler and Green, who caged the ball three times, enabled the locals to gain a safe lead. The Reserves' playing was invariably broken up by the Janesville guards, who stopped every play that brought the Madison players down the floor. Janesville scored two baskets on out of bound plays which caught their opponents asleep.

This is the last game of the season and in spite of the sterling quality of the contest only a small number of fans witnessed the game. The Cardinals have finished a successful season, having defeated some of the strongest teams in the west. The only team that has defeated them was the high school and the Armour Square team of Chicago. The Wisconsin Reserves beat them in the earlier part of the season, but last night's victory revenges that defeat.

Summary.
Janesville Cardinals—Cunningham, r.; Green, l.; Langdon, c.; Falter, r.; and Edler, fg.
Wisconsin Reserves—Pillette, r.; Sands, l.; Neuprud, c.; Curtin, rg.; Skinner, fg.
Baskets—Green 4, Edler 3, Sands 2, Pillette, Neuprud, Skinner, Cunningham, Langdon and Falter 1.
Referee—Koch.

GYMNASIUM MEETING TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Madison, Wis., April 14.—Under the auspices of the Western Intercollegiate Gymnastic Association, of which Dr. W. E. Meanwell of Wisconsin is secretary, there will be held at the University of Wisconsin next Saturday an all-western gymnasium, wrestling and fencing meet. Minnesota, Wisconsin, Chicago, Nebraska, Indiana, Iowa, Beloit, Carlton college, and the Iowa Teachers' college will compete and altogether will enter approximately 75 athletes. Bleachers will be erected on the main floor of the gymnasium, and here the preliminaries will be held in the afternoon and the finals in the evening.

Last year Illinois won this meet, with Wisconsin second. This year it is said the Badgers have an excellent chance of taking the meet, with Minnesota and Chicago, as very close competitors.

VARSITY BASE BALL SEASON OPENS TUESDAY

Madison, Wis., April 14.—The University of Wisconsin's baseball season will open tomorrow with a game at Camp Randall with Milton college, a newcomer on the Badger schedule. The game will be played as the first on the new field southwest of the corner grandstand. This departure will be a complete turning-over of plans, but the athletic authorities have decreed the gridirons are for football and that baseball work will not materially help the condition of the field for football in the fall.

Ripon college will play the second and third games of the season here next Friday and Saturday, and the Whitewater Normal will come the following Tuesday. It is likely the men will be placed in the first few games as follows: Pitcher, Borchert, Savage, Wendt, Moon, Neuprud, and Harper; catcher, Schaefer, Bainbridge, Hoskins and Berger; first base, Bragg and Gelein; second base, Machotka, Herzog and Reid; shortstop, Mereness and Beattie; third base, Hoppert and Cabilli; right field, Lampert and Roos; center field, Captain Boutin and Rothe; left field, Herzog and Byrne.

Although the men are not making southern "training" trips and the like, they will probably be in fully as good condition at the opening of the preliminary series as any team which ever represented Wisconsin. The regular conference season will not open until April 23, when Indiana meets Wisconsin here.

The Theatre

After weeks of preparation the Lakota club is ready to stage its first theatrical performance at the Myers theatre on Friday, April 18. The club has in its membership several of the old favorites of previous minstrel shows, besides a number of the best soloists in the city. Walter Carle, Howard Clithero and Will Ponichen have already made reputations as amateur comedians and will be sure to cause uproarious laughter again. Will Miller, Ed Leary and Stewart Richards will each sing one of the recent song hits while others of dramatic ability will appear in the olio numbers. A feature of the first act of the show will be a male chorus of fifty—the entire membership. Every song is selected from the favorites of the day.

Following the custom of minstrel shows, the club members will take part in a parade Friday noon, headed by the Bower City band. The reserved seat sale will open tomorrow at Koebblins.

WEATHER FORECAST.
Fair tonight and Tuesday; rising temperature.FOOLING THEMSELVES.

Congress is apparently seeking not only to fool itself, but to befuddle the people with an idea that by their radical tariff provisions they are going to reduce the cost of living and still protect the farmer. They arrange for a heavy tax on the importation of wheat, for instance, from foreign countries; Canada in particular, but will admit flour, as a finished product, free. They put an import duty on cattle but admit dressed beef free. This is to protect the honest farmer, the long-suffering farmer, whom they hope will appreciate their efforts in his behalf and help elect democrats to office two years from now and again four years from now. Really, it puts a premium on immigration to Canada by the American farmer and workman and also American capital. If the miller can buy his grain in Canada, manufacture it into flour and import into the United States to compete with the local product he can make a good profit. There are millions of acres of fertile land in Canada suitable for raising wheat, and already thousands of American farmers have taken advantage of the cheap lands and emigrated. More will follow, and with them will go some manufacturers to take advantage of the democratic tariff provisions. The same is true of the beef cattle. While in the United States we are told the grazing lands of the west are being cut up into small farms, Canada still has untouched acres suitable for raising the greatest beef cattle in the world. This is true of Mexico and Argentina. All that is necessary to do is to establish packing houses, kill and dress the cattle and import it. True, the big meat trust of the United States may gobble up this product and still maintain the high price of beef, but if Canadian cattle can be handled cheaper in Canada than in the United States it will not reduce the price of meat here and will reduce the purchase price paid the farmers. Take for instance sugar. The democrats would practically make it subject to no importation duty. While this hits the sugar beet factories of the United States, their field of operation is really limited, and it will affect these isolated districts as immediately about Janesville and throughout southern Wisconsin harder than the country in general. And after all is said the cost of living will not be materially affected, but the democrats will have made a great stir and political capital for future campaigns.

TUESDAY'S MEETING.

Tuesday evening at the Myers theatre, the mass meeting called for the purpose of organizing a monster "Boosters" club, will start the ball rolling for a bigger and better Janesville. Janesville a city with a population of twenty-five thousand. Janesville a manufacturing center for southern Wisconsin as it now is the business center for the same district. With the possible advent of new through trains on the railroads, new railroad yards for the St. Paul road near the city, a survey for an interurban road towards Madison, now in progress, the time is ripe for the advancement of the city's interest. The organization of a Twenty-five Thousand club is along this line. The membership is to be open to everyone and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance. Manager Myers has donated the use of his theatre, the Moose band, their services to inspire the gathering with music, and several quartets will sing appropriate music during the evening. Be a booster and attend the meeting and help Janesville grow. Bury the hatchet and take up the banner of "Twenty-five Thousand or Bust."

THE CORN CONTEST.

In arranging for a contest open to youths of sixteen years and under throughout the county for growing one acre of corn, the Gazette has opened up a new field of interest to the average farmer boy. The prizes are sufficient to entice them to enter and the prospect of a yield of sixty to a possible hundred bushels per acre is enough to attract their special attention to the plan. The entries close on May 5th and every person who is planning to enter is advised to do so at once, so that they may obtain sufficient seed for the planting. Aside from the contest itself the Gazette has arranged with Noyes R. Raessler, champion corn-grower of Wisconsin, to write a series of articles for the Gazette during the growing season; and also to personally handle the contest itself. This initiative is worth a great deal, not only to the farmer boy, but to the farmers themselves.

The Healthfulness of Beer

Grains in solid and liquid forms will alone sustain perfect health. Malted barley is a powerful, nutritious natural food tonic. The malted process converts the grain starches into a rich substance not only easily assimilated, but having a like beneficial effect on other foods taken in combination with it. To produce the malt for BUOB'S BEER, we use only the choicest barley. Our hops also have the same careful selection and you get in BUOB'S BEER a liquid food that is not equaled for flavor and healthful qualities. Phone for a case of medium or large size bottles.

COUNTY CLERGYMEN HOLD SEMI-ANNUAL SESSIONS IN CITY

Twenty-nine Attended Meetings Here Today—Significant Papers Under Discussion

More than twenty-five Rock county clergymen, members of the Rock County Ministers' association, attended the semi-annual meeting of that organization held at the Park hotel in this city today. The entire morning was given up to the paper of Prof. B. W. Konkell of Beloit college on "The Present Status of the Darwinian Theory," and to the discussion that followed. The next paper on the program, that of the Rev. Dr. David Beaton on "Medical Examination as a Requisite for Marriage," was given immediately after dinner had been served. His presentation of this topic, now attracting a great deal of attention by both press and platform, was a powerful plea for an awakened public sentiment and legislation that would demand such inspection in the interest of the welfare of society and the generations to come. The discussion that followed his paper indicated that the sentiment of the clergymen present was in general agreement with him.

Other numbers on the program were an address on "Ministerial Investment," by the Rev. F. W. Schoenfeldt of Edgerton, one by the Rev. A. W. Triggs of Clinton on "The Teacher's Vocation," and "The Pulpit and Parity" by the Rev. William C. Sainsbury of Orfordville.
The clergymen attending the sessions were the Revs. F. L. Peppé, Orfordville; W. H. Johnson, Evansville; T. F. Livernore, Beloit; W. J. Perry, Milton Junction; Putnam S. Leighton, Milton; L. C. Randolph, Milton; F. H. Ambrose, Footville; A. J. C. Bond, Milton Junction; F. W. Schoenfeldt, Edgerton; Thomas W. North, Edgerton; A. W. Triggs, Clinton; S. B. Penntman, Beloit; D. Q. Grabb, Evansville; F. W. Hatch, Beloit; John Reynolds, Janesville; Louis Watson, Evanston, Ill.; William C. Sainsbury, Orfordville; and the Revs. J. Willard Scott, C. H. Howard, T. D. Williams, J. C. Hazen, J. W. Daughlin, C. J. Robert, Frank L. Van Vorhis, C. J. Catchpole, John Reynolds, David Beaton, Charles Taylor and O. G. Briggs.

ENGINEERS DECLARE BRIDGE TO BE SAFE

Representatives of Railway Commission Satisfied With Results of Their Examination
Milwaukee street bridge is entirely safe for such traffic as is being permitted to use it, according to the two engineers of the Wisconsin railway commission who made a personal inspection of it last Friday. They had few suggestions to offer as to its further safeguarding, and these were that the supports of the trolley tracks be slightly reinforced, and that one of the electric light poles be given a firmer staying. The commission engineers made their inspection under the statute that gives them the authority to inspect all highway bridges crossed by railway tracks, and it was with the purpose of determining whether the bridge was in condition to support the weight of street cars that they made their visit to this city.
Steady progress is being made in preliminary work for the new bridge. Additional soundings are being taken, measurements made, and the plans involve a vast amount of computation and detailed work far more than is popularly supposed. Each is a problem in itself with its peculiar difficulties to overcome. Designs and specifications used for other bridges are invaluable aids but there is no practical possibility of applying a ready-made plan.

FIREMEN ARE REMEMBERED FOR VALIANT SERVICES
Given Fifty Dollars as a Testimonial Of Appreciation For Their Work On April 1.
Through the munificence of a citizen and property owner who has refused to disclose his name, the Janesville fire department has been given the sum of fifty dollars as a testimonial of appreciation for their valiant services in fighting the fire on the night of Tuesday, April 1. No decision has yet been made as to how the money will be used.

ANSWER TWO ALARMS ON SUNDAY EVENING

Department Made Fast Run to South Main Street Last Night—Small Fire at the Auditorium.
The fastest fire run that the city has seen in a long time took place last evening when the fire department was called to South Main street near Sharon street at about seven o'clock to extinguish a fire that had started in the automobile of Grant Fisher. The flying horses and apparatus raised such a dust that it could hardly be penetrated by automobile headlights, and the Chief's car, fairly "burned up" the street. The Spring Brook department apparatus reached the scene first and put out the blaze in short order by smothering it with a heavy blanket. Gasoline from a leak in the pipe between the tank and the burner underneath the boiler had been ignited, and had it not been quenched promptly would have resulted in the destruction of the automobile and possibly a dangerous explosion. The damage was inconsequential.
The Chief's auto had no sooner returned to the fire station when a silent alarm came from the Auditorium. A canvas curtain near the door caught fire from some unknown cause and blazed up. The curtain was quickly torn down, taken outside, and the fire put out with a few pails of water. Wagon No. 1, that was on its way back from the other fire, was ordered to remain at a nearby street until the blaze was extinguished.

JAMES S. HAGGART DIES IN MILWAUKEE
Was a Resident of Janesville for Over Forty Years—Railway Employee Twenty-five Years.
James S. Haggart, for more than forty years a resident of Janesville, and an employee of the Chicago & Northwestern railway for twenty-five years, died at Trinity hospital, Milwaukee yesterday, Sunday, April 13. The cause of his death was pneumonia, and he was taken sick at Butler, a village near Milwaukee. Mr. Haggart was born in Schenectady, New York, March 22, 1846, and was sixty-seven years old. Before entering the employ of the Chicago & Northwestern railway he worked for fifteen years with the old firm of Shoppell & Norris, at the end of that time taking work as a bridge and carpenter foreman. Mr. Haggart was a man of excellent character and was held in high esteem by all who knew him. He leaves three sons, Harry S. and George D. of Janesville, and James D. of Chicago. His wife passed away eighteen years ago. Funeral services will be held at the home of H. S. Haggart, 450 Terrace street, Tuesday, afternoon at three o'clock.

Mr. Samuel Dean.
Word has been received here of the death of Mr. Samuel Dean at Badley Smith, Wis., last Friday, the funeral being held in this city yesterday. He leaves three sons, Harry S. and George D. of Janesville, and James D. of Chicago. His wife passed away eighteen years ago. Funeral services will be held at the home of H. S. Haggart, 450 Terrace street, Tuesday, afternoon at three o'clock.

Philip Rudden.
Requiem mass for the late Philip Rudden was celebrated at St. Mary's church this morning, the Rev. Father W. A. Goebel officiating. Those who served as pall bearers were John and William Kennedy, John Monogue, and Andrew Gibbons. Burial was made in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Mae E. Morse.
The funeral of Miss Mae E. Morse was held at ten o'clock this morning from the home on Linn street. Services were conducted by the Rev. J. C. Hazen, pastor of the Baptist church. The remains were taken to Oregon for burial.

Mrs. George A. Cooke.
The remains of Mrs. George A. Cooke, a former Janesville woman, arrived this morning at 11:45 from River Forest, Ill., and were removed at once to Oak Hill cemetery for burial. The Rev. Dr. David Beaton conducted the service.

William Isaac.
The funeral of William Isaac will be held at two o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Catholic Methodist Episcopal church. The body will lay in state at the church from ten a. m. until the hour of the funeral.

OPPOSE REBUILDING BRIDGE BUILDINGS

Commercial Club Received Seventy-One Answers to Request on Opinion As to Buildings on Bridge.
The Commercial Club directors met in regular session at the Myers Hotel this noon at each individual's expense with Vice President George S. Parker presiding. The result of the vote of the entire club members were requested to express their opinion by mail as to the desirability of rebuilding the burned structures on Milwaukee street bridge, brought in 71 votes, 16 for and 51 against, 2 undecided. It was decided to give to the mayor the result of the club's action.
Newspaper clipping bureaus have been called upon to furnish the names of factories which suffered from the floods in Indiana and Ohio, so that Secretary Lane might get in touch with them in a view of interesting them in Janesville. Considerable data has already been received.
Discussion as to two bills before the legislature was entered into. Resolutions commending the booster club movement and offering the good offices of the club were passed. The club authorities are urged by the club to use every means possible to hasten the rebuilding of Milwaukee street bridge, as the business of the city is and will be interfered with greatly until a new structure is erected.

HERE IS A LAW THAT AFFECTS ALL TRADES
Tobacco, Sugar Beets in Fact any Sort Of Farm Produce Affected by New Statute.
By the publication of the following law on April 11, becoming effective on publication, a decided change is made in methods of buying crops, not only of tobacco, sugar beets but also of almost all kinds of farm products. The law will be of interest to all growers and buyers and is reprinted below:
No. 275, A. (Pub. April 11, 1913.)
CHAPTER 55, LAWS OF 1913.
An act to create section 1670n of the statutes, relating to the purchase or certain crops, and the manner of weighing and paying therefor.
The people of the State of Wisconsin, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:
Section 1. There is added to the statutes a new section to read: Section 1670n. 1. Any person, firm or corporation transacting business in this state that shall enter into any contract for the purchase of any crop that is not ready for immediate delivery shall in all cases weigh, or cause to be weighed, the crop so purchased, at or before the time such crop is delivered to the purchaser, or to a common carrier at the direction of the purchaser for shipment, and every such person, firm or corporation shall ultimately make payments in full for all of the crop so purchased according to the weight so ascertained and at the price, or amount specified in the contract, without regard to the quality or condition of the crop at the time of delivery, unless, in inferior quality or unsound condition of such crop shall be due to the negligence or wilful act of the vendor, subsequent to such purchase, and in case any purchaser shall fail or refuse to comply with his contract as provided in this section, the vendor, in any action prosecuted by him to recover for any crop sold to such purchaser, shall recover as damages for such failure or refusal, double the contract price of such crop at the weight thereof when ready for delivery and offered to or accepted by the purchaser.
Section 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication.
Approved April 10, 1913.

SUPERVISORS HOLD MEETING TOMORROW

Special April Session Convened at Clerk's Office at Two O'clock Today.

The special April session of the Rock county board of supervisors will convene at the county clerk's office tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. The session Tuesday will be given over largely to the matter of organization including the selection of a chairman and a vice-chairman. It is anticipated that there will be no opposition to the re-election of Supervisor A. C. Gray of Evansville as chairman. The appointment of committees will be the matter of most importance following the election of the chairman. With six new supervisors taking seats for the first time there will be several rather important committee positions to be filled, among them being two places on the highway committee, one place on the finance committee, one on the tax certificate committee, one of sheriff's claims and one on superintendent of insane asylum report.

MEMORIAL SERVICES ARE HELD BY MOOSE

Memorial services in honor of the members of their order who departed this life during the past year were conducted at the West Side Odd Fellows' hall yesterday afternoon by Janesville Lodge No. 197, Loyal Order of Moose. The members assembled at their lodge rooms, and at 2:30 o'clock marched in a body to the hall by way of Court street bridge. There, with the room darkened, the names of the departed were called, and simultaneously a light was flashed in a large lobby. The members of the order who died during 1912 were: Walter L. Taylor and J. U. Fisher. Mrs. William Taylor sang, "O Paradise," after which the Rev. Frank Van Voorhis gave a very inspiring address on the subject, "Immortality." The Moose Band then played "Rock of Ages," and City Attorney W. H. Dougherty addressed those present on the topic of "Fraternity."

UNCLE WALT
The Poet PhilosopherCopyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams

BY WALT MASON

I wonder if the postman knows how he distributes joys and woes with every trip he makes? He plods along from door to door, makes one heart glad, another sore, and ties of friendship breaks. He brings a gist of urgent duns to those distressed and saddened ones whose tailors' business means he trudges to the poet's home and brings him a POST-MAN magazine. Oh, all there is of grief and wrath he scatters as he takes his path along the village street, and heartaches, troubles and despair, and things that change to white hair, attend his toiling feet. And all there is of hope and bliss, the plighted vow, the written kiss, he carries as he winds, the letter from a roaming boy, that fills a mother's heart with joy, the greetings from old friends. The capture of the glowing bride, the requiem of those who died, he carries in his pack; the whole long tale of human things to every village door he brings as he pursues his track. I wonder if the postman dreams of all the futile hopes and schemes he carries as he walks? Of all the yearnings and the fears, of all the torture and the tears, the solaces and shocks?

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY
You should not waste time in trifles, but keep pushing steadily ahead, regardless of frivolous distractions. You will be benefited by friends who have hitherto remained in the background.

Those born today will have versatile talents and good judgment. They will make their way against obstacles and friends attracted by their good dispositions will greatly aid them.

SIDEWALK SKETCHESLOVE LETTERS.

By Howard L. Rann.

LOVE letters are a delicious display of temporary insanity which rise up to haunt a man long after he has regained his composure and lost his hair. They contain a great many expressions of endearment which a woman never forgets, and in some cases it is the first and last time she hears them.

When a man sits down to write a love letter for the first time, he is under such deep stress of emotion that he manages to misspell a b o u t every third or fourth word. If he writes on unruled paper, he will leave tracings on the page like the restless footprints of the setting hen. The woman who can receive a batch of these missives without firing back the engagement ring collect deserves a better fate than having to support a bald widower with a relay of indisposed sons.

The feminine love letter is a hectic proposition which starts off in a cool and contained manner and winds up with Cupid sitting on the safety valve. A woman can write four love letters a day and never repeat the same endearing phrase twice. This is because, as a rule, she has had forty love letters to a man's one and is therefore liberally stocked up with caressing synonyms.

The most dangerous and harassing form of love letter is the kind which bobs up in a breach of promise suit and then appears in the evening paper, which is careful not to omit any of its honeyed terms. This is a revolting practice, and every man should guard against it by calling in his old love letters and cremating them in the furnace. Many a man has had to curtail his honeymoon and take back a new full dress suit because of a few thoughtless, cayenne pepper remarks on scented note paper which were never intended to be read out loud to the jury. The only safe way to write a love letter is to begin with "Dear Madam" and end up with "Yours truly."

Women preserve their husbands' love letters with jealous care, after first destroying several bushels of bubbling blandishment from other suitors. Men seldom keep any but the last installment, and then tuck these away where nobody can find them but the children and the hired girl.

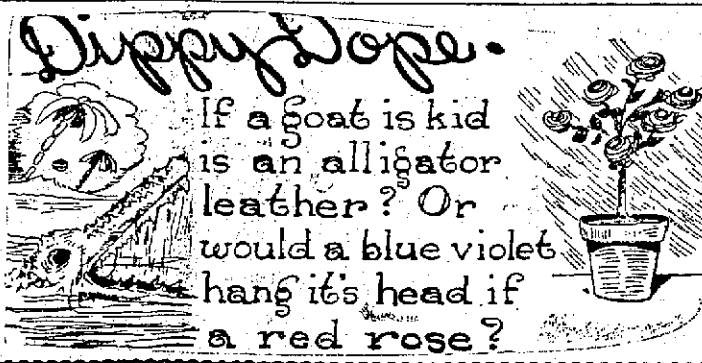

Appreciation Coming.

"You'll never realize your husband's true value until he has gone," counseled Mrs. Goodman. "I know it," replied Mrs. Nagg. "His life is insured."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

JERSEY CITY WILL VOTE ON COMMISSION PLAN

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Jersey City, N. J., April 14.—Special elections are to be held tomorrow in Jersey City, Hoboken, and several other New Jersey cities to decide upon the adoption or rejection of the commission plan of government. If Jersey City adopts the plan it will be the largest city in the East to do so. Mayor Wittgen and other city officials are leading in the campaign for the change, and it is declared that opposition to it has generally lessened since the rejection of the plan two years ago, and the chances of success are believed to be fair. Hoboken, Bayonne and Union Hill, where the proposal also will be voted on, are regarded as doubtful.

Find the catcher.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, April 14, 1873.—A young man stole a harness from Charles Wilcox and fled northward by rail. Wilcox procured a warrant but the thief managed to get across the state line into Michigan before the avenging hand of the pursuer could stay his progress. They met on the streets of Menominee, but as Wilcox had not gotten requisition papers from the Governor he therefore handcuffed the guilty man, put him in a wagon, carried him across the river into Wisconsin where he arrested him and brought him back to Janesville. He now boards with Sheriff Putnam.

We saw today, Dr. Bell, who attended the two young ladies who tried to kill themselves a short time ago at the town of Turtle, because both wished to marry the same young man. He stated their recovery was very probable. Their escape from death was an exceedingly narrow one but the girls do not seem grateful for the interposition of medical aid. They declare they were in earnest in their desire to end their lives and had no wish to remain on earth. They gathered the strychnine that they attempted suicide with for some time previous and had kept their plans secret. An agreement had existed between them that if one of them was to kill herself so must the other and in accordance to their plans they divided the poison, each taking half and laid down to die. Another cause of the attempt is said to be to leave the world of toil and pain and they had little in life to look forward to.

Have Made Arrangements With King, Cowles & Fifiield to Take Over the Remainder of Their Entire Shoe Stock.

Now for the greatest outpouring of shoe bargains that this or any other city has ever seen. The Kelly people refuse to pay freight on a single pair of shoes in this entire stock. The shoes must be sold in Janesville.

Another Big Price Explosion!!

Every clerk in this store is busy today remarking the stock. Prices are to go lower than ever before. Not a pair but that will be marked below cost. It is cheaper to lose money on the shoes here than to ship them away. And don't forget that this stock must be sold in a few days as the lease of the room we occupy will expire in a week more and every pair of shoes must be out of the building by that time.

SHOES AT LESS THAN COST

43c on the dollar was the orders given the clerks when they started remarking prices this morning. Not a shoe that will be marked at more than that and many at figures much less. Come in and see what a dollar will buy in footwear.

HERE ARE EXAMPLES OF WHAT THE PRICES WILL BE

| ANY LADIES' SHOE IN THE STORE | ANY MAN'S SHOE IN THE HOUSE | 500 PAIRS LADIES' SHOES AND OXFORDS, REGULAR $3.00, $3.50 VALUES | 200 PAIRS OF MEN'S SHOES AND OXFORDS | 300 PAIRS WOMEN'S PATENTS AND GUN METALS, LACE OR BUTTON, REGULAR $3.50, $4.00 VALUES |

NEED MORAL COURAGE IN THE WORLD TODAY

REV. J. W. LAUGHLIN DELIVERS
FORCEFUL SERMON SUN-DAY MORNING.

WHY BE A CHRISTIAN?

Church Members Need to Take a
Broader View of Their Religion
—That One of Personal Betterment.

Moral courage is one thing above all else which is demanded in the world today according to Rev. J. W. Laughlin, who spoke on the subject, "Enduring the Cross, Despising the Shame," at the Sunday morning service at the Presbyterian church.

That the world does not improve in the matter of physical courage, was a fact pointed out by the speaker. Men endure the same hardships today as they did several thousand years ago. All improvement which has come has been of a moral nature. "There was never such a demand for the morally courageous," declared Rev. Laughlin. "There is so much of indifference, so much of neglect. Men and women need to stand steadfastly for the truth and for the right in order to improve and cleanse our society which is frivolous, our business which contains corruption, and our politics which are bad and becoming worse."

"Statues of marble and granite have been erected to the heroes of war and history, but where is the monument that writes down the name of the man who has had the courage to be right when it has cost him something?"

In the matter of Christianity through the espousal of which moral courage should come, Dr. Laughlin said that the tendency today was toward a misunderstanding of its true significance. To be a Christian was not for the purpose of gaining personal joy and happiness; one should be a Christian because of the promise of salvation which the belief contains; the reason for being a Christian should go wider and farther; it should be the fact that through the teachings of Christ there is found a means of righting the world's wrongs, a panacea for the world's ills.

Amplifying this idea Dr. Laughlin pointed out what this would mean in actual life. It would mean no more misunderstandings between employer and employee, or employee and employee; it would mean a realization of the world brotherhood in which all work together for the great amelioration of society.

But the espousal of this cause of Christianity, Dr. Laughlin explained, was a matter which should involve a weighing of the costs. Christ always made plain to his followers just what was demanded of them. He always pointed out that the carrying out of his teachings would mean opposition and persecution and death. He made his followers understand that the suffering which he must and did endure was not at all unique, for Christians everywhere have the same experience.

Christ worked for the joy of triumph. He came as a teacher, a revealer, a life dispenser, devoting his life to social service, to human uplift as a matter of world benefit. He overturned traditions and by so doing he met the bitterest kind of opposition. His purpose was to substitute a new life and a new hope for the old things which were embedded in ignorance and superstition.

There existed the same situation today, said the speaker. There are useless traditions and a mass of worldly deception which is based on selfishness. Men everywhere need the moral courage to stand by the truth and the right as they see it from Christ's teachings.

PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN REGULATES STOMACH

Time It! In Five Minutes the Gas, Sourness, Heartburn and Indigestion Misery is Gone.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Diapepsin get this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely, quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. Diapepsin is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of indigestible food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

Services at the Lutheran church on Sunday morning were held in Norwegian, and in the evening the pastor preached in English.

PEACE DAY IS NEW IN UNITED STATES

Will be Celebrated Throughout the Country, Very Generally However.

Peace Day will be widely celebrated in schools throughout the United States this year. Although introduced but a few years ago, this special school day in behalf of international peace is now regularly celebrated in many American schools, and the indications are that its observance this year will be extended to thousands more. Since May 18, the day set aside as Peace Day, falls on Sunday, the schools will probably hold their exercises on the nearest school day.

Realizing the growing importance of the peace movement among school children, the United States Bureau of Education has just issued a Peace Day bulletin for 1913 containing, besides a suggested program for the day, a number of interesting short articles on different phases of the international peace movement, accurate and comprehensive information about the various organizations working for peace, and a collection of appropriate poems and prose quotations by famous peace lovers of many nations. The material was compiled for the bureau by Mrs. Fannie Fern Andrews, secretary of the American School Peace League, and a world-known worker for peace.

"The Temple of Peace at the Hague," the history of peace between England and the United States; the cosmopolitan movement in the colleges and universities, and what it signifies for universal peace; the work of the Hague tribunal and other peace agencies; these are among the important topics gathered together in the bureau's bulletin "The Promotion of Peace."

That the sentiment for observance of Peace Day in the schools is not confined to the United States, but is distinctly international, is shown in the words of M. Buisson, of Paris, quoted in the bulletin. He says:

"Peace Day, let it shine one day in the year among all nations. The whole year is consecrated, as it ought to be, to the promotion of love of country to teaching our duties toward our native land, even to the extent of sacrificing ourselves for her. On this special day, however, it is in order not to forget our country, but to see her transfigured in the future, to see her lead in the movement which binds one nation to all others, making a sort of higher country, the federation of the United States of the Civilized World."

Schlitz Brown Bottle

Scientists Praise It

FERMENTOLOGY
1157 FULLERTON AVENUE
CHICAGO

April 1, 1911.
Mr. Alfred Uihlein
Schlitz Brewing Co.
Milwaukee, Wis.

Dear Sir:
Answering your favor of recent date in regard to the influence of light on the quality of beer, will say that our observations, extending over the last twenty-five years, have convinced us beyond a doubt that exposure of beer to light has a very detrimental influence on its quality generally, but especially upon the flavor of the beer.

We have tested beers repeatedly in this direction, placing the bottles into direct sunlight, and testing the same after one, two, three and five minutes exposure, found that the beer with three and five minutes exposure became undrinkable on account of the peculiar odor developed.

The detrimental effect of light upon beer can be successfully counteracted by the employment of brown or dark colored glass bottles, and such bottles are therefore recommended.

Yours very truly,
RW/B

Schlitz The Beer That Made Milwaukee Famous

NEW POSTAGE STAMPS CALLED HODGE PODGE

Critic of Commemorative Issues Declares Designs Lack Art Entirely.

Our sets of commemorative postage stamps were at first a joke, then a bore, and now they are becoming from an artistic point of view—a tragedy. The new stamps or the San Francisco exposition are no advance upon the earlier issues. They are, indeed, rather more lacking in beauty and simplicity.

The new 1 cent stamp is a mediocre design, in which a portrait of Balboa is surrounded by numerous palms and other fussy details. The 2 cent-value supports to carry a view of the Panama canal. It may, indeed, do so, but a photograph of two tailors ironing negligently upon a very wrinkled pair of trousers would have, when reduced in size, much the same effect.

The 5 cent stamp is better, the color being a rich blue and the picture a view of the Golden Gate. The 10 cent stamp is a screamer. Its vivid yellow offends the eye and makes indistinguishable both the picture and the lettering. There seems to be a group of people, but they might be signing the Declaration or simply having a picnic.

The Columbia stamps of 1893 were rather large for use, but they were a beautiful set. They rank next, perhaps, in attractiveness to the old and pretty little square stamps of 1899. Since the Columbian set our commemorative stamps have almost steadily declined in merit. The designers have invariably made the mistake of crowding too much detail upon such tiny bits of paper. The result has been a hodge podge.

The new parcel post stamps are interesting; after a fashion, but an artist would find little in them to commend, or even consider.

Our government designers when next they wish to reproduce a landscape upon postage stamps will do well to look at the Bosnia Herzegovina set, recently issued by Austria. And for a stamp bearing a portrait, the Bavarian stamps, with the head of the aged regent, are striking. In skillful utilization of space, in color, in artistic design, and in absence of an appearance of crowding, they are remarkably successful.

Shop in the Gazette before you shop in the store.

"Beer bottles should be manufactured from reddish-brown glass, inasmuch as same will to a much higher degree than any other kind of glass, minimize the influence of the rays of light on the quality of beer, and will protect the latter against acquiring the disagreeable taste (Sonnengeschmack) due to the chemical action of the light." *

"In white and green glass bottles the beer is most affected by the action of the light. Such bottles are, therefore, absolutely inappropriate and should never be employed by brewers." (Signed) Prof. Dr. F. Schönfeld.

From the Illustrated Brewery Encyclopedia, p. 99 (Illustrations of Beer Bottles by Prof. Dr. F. Schönfeld, Privat-Doktor, Professor an der Royal Agricultural College and Director of the Institute for Fermentology at Berlin, 1910).

"Bottles of strong glass should be selected. They should never be of colorless glass, inasmuch as through the influence of light the beer will not only take on a disagreeable odor and taste, but will also become turbid." (Linter.)

Extract from Die Malz und Bierbrauerei. Published by E. Leber, Director of the Brauerei Akademie in Augsburg. Tenth Edition, Stuttgart, 1900, page 68.

"The beer in the white glass bottle had taken on disagreeable odor and taste and was absolutely undrinkable. The beer in the dark bottles did not show this peculiar odor and taste." (G. Beck.)

Translation of German from Zeitschrift für das gesamte Brauwesen, 1889, p. 370.

"It is interesting to note the observation that beer in colorless bottles exposed to diffused light will undergo a change, precipitating a heavy sediment and taking on a disagreeable odor and taste."

Some of the Real Estate Advertised Today will Double in Value in a Year

You know this is true and you know that not one per cent of it will depreciate in value during the year; and you know that fully half of all the real estate advertised in this newspaper is sure to make substantial and steady advances in values for years to come.

These facts make the real estate ads amazingly interesting—almost tantalizing—reading to all who have any surplus money to invest.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

THE REASON SOME MARRIAGES FAIL.

LOVE makes the world go round, we are told. Well, so does any other intoxicant. The stronger the draught, the more dizzily the world revolves, and the sadder the sobering up process. "The Chinese girl doesn't know her husband until she is married to him," a returned missionary solemnly informed an American club-woman. "Neither did I," answered the club-woman.

The increase of divorces is proof that what she said in jest, many are finding sober truth. Schopenhauer argued with profound pessimism that love was only the physical attraction of opposites. He would, were he alive, take grim pleasure in watching the procession of people who, grown distasteful to each other after a few years of married life, pass through our divorce courts, furnishing an argument not available in his day.

I wonder how largely the fault is with the hazy idea that most young folks have of marriage. The average girl gets her notion of it from reading how he bent and kissed her poor bruised hand. An author who might tell how six months later, he laid abed while she, still suffering from a nervous headache of the night before, built the fire, holds an attraction for the average girl.

The girl who is a bride learns two things, therefore, after marriage. One is the manner of man she has married, and the other is marriage. And both lose glamour. In the man, the little peculiarities and selfishnesses she glossed over when they were only engaged, loom large and irritate when they become daily routine.

As for marriage—well, it's different. This is the critical time. She feels cheated. She does not know that hers is the common lot, for while she has been told that marriage is serious, she has not been told that it is likely to start with a period of reaction and adjustment. As a result she is rebellious.

It is here that divorce becomes a menace, because it suggests a way of escape. As a result she does not make the same effort to snatch happiness from the wreck of her illusions as did her mother and her grandmother, who never considered such escape.

In some states this is being taken into consideration, and courts of "reconciliation" are taking the place of courts of divorce. But why should they be necessary? The answer is that they shouldn't, and wouldn't, if mothers would warn daughters, and for that matter sons, what marriage means in the way of mutual concession.

Enlisting a Boy on the Side of Good

AMOTHER writes that she has a son, just at that age when he is hard to rule, who is inclined to evil associates. She says he gives little heed to her admonition as to where the course he is entering upon will lead him, and she is fearful that he will spoil his life. And she is anxious for suggestions as to what to do.

The writer of one of the most popular books of the past year or two showed a good understanding of boyish character and of the best way to influence a boy when he said:

"I want to teach boys that they are not individuals, not unrelated atoms in a random universe, but that they are links, every one of them, in a splendid chain that has been running since life began, and will run on to the end of time. I want them to understand that no chain is stronger than its weakest link, and this means them. I want every boy to realize his personal responsibility; and that when he doesn't do right, he is blocking the whole magnificent procession."

Make a boy feel that he is responsible for part of the world's progress, that if he drags or falls out or adds a weight, the march forward will be delayed by just that much, and he'll square his shoulders and take up with pride the responsibility put upon him. His manhood will be awakened, and he will begin to see that he can be of real use in the world; and there are few boys who will not respond to this incentive.

Many a boy thinks he can knock about any way he pleases, that it doesn't make any difference to anybody but himself, and is nobody's business. But if he is shown that what he does reaches out and affects the whole big family of mankind, that if he is helping make necessary a jail or a poorhouse, or is supporting a saloon, he is just by that much holding his own little community back, you are setting him to thinking in a big way that will in all probability arouse the good in him, and make him want to help pull instead of being a drag.

Then, too, this boy may have no attractive pleasures at home or among the right kind of people. A boy likes movement, life, action, jollity, and if he cannot get these things at home, the probability is, he will seek them elsewhere.

And again, the boy who is just crossing the boundary into manhood dislikes the idea of being ruled. He usually can be led, but seldom driven. This period is an exceedingly difficult one for the parents of some boys. And the best course is for the parent to become his friend and companion, rather than the school teacher or martinet. It is not always easy to play this part, especially if it is entirely new. But it is about the only way by which a mother can keep a guiding hand upon the course of such a boy as is here described.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Will you please tell me how to use a finger bowl? (2) How is a bride's hair marked? (3) How do you take cheese from the plate and how do you eat it with the fork or fingers? (4) Is it proper to eat from the side of the tip of the spoon? (5) A respectable girl of twenty-two years is engaged to a respectable boy of twenty-seven. He lives in another state and consequently his visits are not very numerous or prolonged. Is it improper for them to stay up after 10 o'clock. They are intending marriage after a few months. (6) What is the latest method of sofa pillow arrangements? Are they left in various places about the rooms? ONE WHO RESPECTS YOUR OPINION.

DON'T PULL OUT YOUR GREY HAIR

Keep It and Restore It to Its Natural Color

IT'S SO EASY IF YOU USE

HAY'S HAIR HEALTH

Hay's Hair Health always brings back the natural color of youth, to grey and faded hair. Druggists everywhere say that more people are buying Hay's Hair Health than all others combined, and that they come back for it again and again as they find it really does keep their hair dark, glossy and natural colored—gives new life and growth to thin, dry hair and stops falling out. If you have Dandruff, there's nothing that will remove it so quickly—that will keep it out so effectively, as Hay's Hair Health. It is not a dye and it's perfectly harmless to use. Will not soil your skin or linen, and besides, no one will know you are using it. The first application will convince you that after a fair trial, you'll have no more grey hair or Dandruff. Don't wait to think about it—act now. Start using Hay's Hair Health today. You'll never regret it. The following druggists guarantee to refund your money if you are not satisfied with Hay's Hair Health after a fair trial. Free! Sign this ad, and take it to the following druggists and get a 50c. bottle of Hay's Hair Health and a 25c. cake of Harnia Soap for 50c. or $1.00 bottle of Hay's Hair Health and two 25c. cakes of Harnia Soap Free, for $1.

(1) Dip the tips of the fingers in it, then wipe them on the napkin. It must be managed daintily. (2) With the initials of her maiden name. (3) You can use the fingers, unless it is sliced quite thin; then use a fork. (4) From the side. (5) Even though they expect to marry soon, they should observe ordinary conventions and not be surfeited with each other's company. Tea o'clock is late enough. (6) Arrange them so they are at hand to be comfortably used.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: As I have no mother, I will be glad to follow your advice. I am a girl of eighteen, and going with a man twelve years older than myself. My uncle says he is too old for me. Do you think so? I really love him and he has told me he loves me dearly, but he says he is not worthy of my love. Do you think if he was younger it would be better?

He takes me to shows and nice parties, when my aunt says so, and tries to make me have a nice time. Do you think he cares for me? My aunt said that unless a man asks you to marry him he doesn't care much for her, and he has never asked me. He has been going with me a year.

JANNIE W.

My dear, when a man tells you he loves you, but is not worthy of you, and then does not ask you to marry him, make up your mind there is something wrong with the man.

I do not think this man is too old for you, as you seem to be a steady sort of little person. But if you think that your aunt is right, be friends with the man, if your father and aunt think he is good enough, but don't let him take up all your time and thoughts. Get some other young men for friends and go about with them.

Any man who will take all a girl's time for a year and then not ask her to marry him is to selfish to consider.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a girl for about four months. I love her, although I have not made many advances. I want to be sure of myself before I tell her that I love her. But the other night when we were alone, she took advantage of the situation and put her arms around my neck and kissed me. Is it her place to do such a thing and did she do right? DOUBTFUL.

Are you quite sure you have not given her cause to think you love her? If you have never kissed her, nor made love to her in any way, her action was rather bold, but otherwise, she may have been helping you along. If you love her and know her to be a good girl, ask her to name the day without any further delay.

SOMETHING TO EAT.

What will we have for dinner, is like the poor, always with us. We do like variety, and most of us have to count the cost.

Chicken With Asparagus.—Cut a young chicken into six or eight parts, season well and brown in two tablespoonfuls of butter, then add a cup of stock and a bunch of asparagus. Cook for two hours at the simmering point, or better yet, in the fireless cooker.

Add milk and flour and thicken, by cooking, for the gravy to be poured around the chicken.

Date Bread.—Add a cup of stoned and quartered dates to a loaf of bread when ready for the pan.

Biscuits with dates added and baked, then served with a maple sirup sauce is a change for dessert.

Caledonian Cream.—Beat until stiff one egg white, add three tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and a third of a glass of grape jelly; whip until stiff. Serve in sherbet glasses with whipped cream. Any kind of jelly may be used. The grape jelly makes a beautiful violet color, nice for a violet luncheon.

Spanish Cream.—Soak half a box of gelatine in a half cup of cold water. Scald a quart of milk, beat four eggs, add the yolks to a half cup of sugar, and cook in the milk; cool. Add a teaspoonful of vanilla and the juice of a lemon. Add the gelatine to the hot milk and stir all together; fold in the whites of the eggs and set to mold. Stand for four hours to mold.

Washington pie is a great favorite. It is two layers of white cake put together with sweetened and flavored whipper cream. To add to its richness, fruit and nuts may be added.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Dandelion Salad.

This time of year, when vegetables are getting scarce and the appetite capricious, dandelions come in good play. They act as a medicine or tonic, and a very good one, too. Besides, they are within the reach of everyone.

They are in their prime now and will be good until they are out in bloom, when they begin to get bitter. Dandelion Salad—I gather the dandelion by using a knife and cutting down into the root, so as to keep the bunch intact. This makes them easier to clean, besides preserving the little tender buds, which add to the salad.

I cut off the outside leaves, or those that are beginning to die, then wash them thoroughly and put them in a chopping bowl and chop them up fine.

Then season with salt and vinegar. The dressing is made as one would make gravy. I usually make it after frying meat. I stir the flour into the tryings and when it is cooked through (not browned), I stir milk or cream into it, making it a little thicker than for gravy. This I pour over the chopped dandelions and mix thoroughly.

We think this fine. It may sound strange not to cook them, but we do not care for cooked greens since I learned this way.

I fix lettuce the same way, but instead of using milk for the dressing I use water. I do not cut the lettuce up unless the leaves are very large.

The Table.

Substitute for Angel Cake—One egg beaten with one cup sugar, one cup flour, one teaspoon baking powder (or one teaspoon cream of tartar), and one-half teaspoon soda. Add one-half cup scalded milk, lard, and flavors. Beat well and bake in an angel cake tin.

Prune Cake—Two eggs, one scant cup sugar, one cup prunes, seeded and mashed fine, one teaspoon cloves, one teaspoon cinnamon, one scant teaspoon soda dissolved in two table-spoons water, about one cup flour. Make two layers. Put together with whipped cream.

Domestic Science DEPARTMENT

CONDUCTED BY Mrs. Alice Mitchell Kirk

present in the sample, the turmeric paper becomes bright cherry red when dry. A drop of household ammonia changes the color to dark green or greenish blue. If preservatives are suspected and these tests do not reveal their presence, the housewife may send a sample to the board of health laboratory for further examination.

Make these tests every time the milk supply is changed, or whenever deterioration is suspected.

Test for Formaldehyde in Milk.—Place four tablespoonfuls of milk in a teacup. Add one drop of fetic chloride to four teaspoonfuls of hydrochloric acid. Add this to the milk. Set the whole in a dish of boiling water. Let stand for five minutes.

Simple Home Tests.

For Richness.—It is an easy matter to examine the milk and note the cream line, which in quart bottles should be about four inches down from the top, and the cream, when poured out, should amount to about one-fourth of the contents.

For Dirt.—After the milk has stood undisturbed for an hour hold up the bottle so that the bottom can be readily seen. Note whether there is any dirt or sediment whatever. This is a visible test for the purity of milk, but a rather disagreeable factor of the dirt in milk is that perhaps more than three-fourths of this substance is dissolved in the milk and does not allow its presence to the eye. This dissolved dirt may usually be detected by the taste and smell of the milk. Clear milk has no distinct flavor—simply a sweet, pleasant taste. If any flavors are present they are artificial.

How to Test for Cleanliness.—Take a pint of milk as it is received from the milkman; pour off a few spoonfuls, to facilitate shaking, and place in a panful of warm water, ninety-five to one hundred degrees; when thoroughly warm throughout, add one rennet tablet which has previously been dissolved in one spoonful of water and shake, then set away in a warm place for a few minutes. When curdled, cut the curd thoroughly with a knife to let out the whey. Let stand for a few minutes, drain off all whey possible and continue to pour off the whey as it accumulates. There will then be a lump of compact curd. Cut this in two with a knife so that it will fall out. The character of this curd will show very clearly the sanitary quality of the milk. If spongy and full of numerous holes, undesirable forms of bacteria, particularly those that produce gas, are present. This class of bacteria is considered by authorities to be one of the causes of epidemic diarrhea. If firm and smooth with few or no holes, the milk is clean and has been handled in a sanitary manner. This test may be continued further by placing the curd back in the bottle and filling half full of water. If the curd floats it indicates that the milk is unclean; if it sinks the milk is reasonably clean.

For Adulteration.—Keep the milk for two or three days at ordinary room temperature; if, on removing the cap, it does not smell sour, is not curdled, but has a putrefactive odor, this indicates that preservatives have been used. While they are not used as much as formerly, a number are still found, among which may be mentioned formaldehyde, boric acid, salicylic acid, sodium carbonate, etc. Formaldehyde is most common. A very simple test for this preservative is as follows: Take an ordinary laboratory test tube, place in it two tablespoonfuls of milk and add about an equal amount of commercial sulphuric acid (care should be taken not to let this touch the clothing or hands), pouring the acid down the side of the tube so that it does not mix with the milk. If formalin is present, a violet ring will appear between the layer of acid and milk. In testing milk for boric acid or borax, two or three tablespoonfuls are placed in a bottle with twice that amount of a solution of one teaspoonful of alum in one pint of water, shaken vigorously and filtered through filter paper.

One teaspoonful of the mixture is placed in any dish not metal and five drops of hydrochloric (muriatic) acid added. A strip of turmeric paper (secured at the drug store) is now dipped in the liquid and held in a warm place near a stove or lamp until

If formaldehyde is present, the milk will turn lavender or purple.

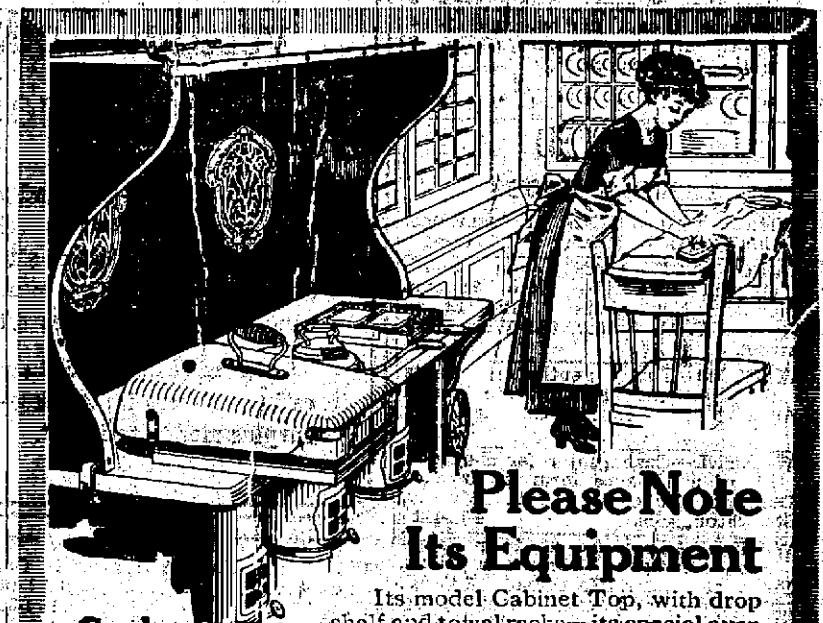

"Yankee Doodle" a Silly Song.

Of the original words of "Yankee Doodle" it is impossible to say one good thing. They are to be seen in the British Museum on a single sheet, quarto, printed about 1825, and sold at the time by L. Denning, Hanover street, Boston. There are 15 stanzas, and each succeeding one from the beginning grows more idiotic. And yet what a sensation the melody has made in the world!—Fitzgerald Stories of Famous Songs.

Future of Yellowstone Park.

Yellowstone park, the oldest, largest and most wonderful national park in the world, may become a most valuable, indeed an invaluable, medium in preserving to future generations the old wild animal life of the plains and mountains. Properly managed, it may be the source of supply and propagation of these various animals, which otherwise would soon pass away and, fifty years hence, be known to our posterity and to history only in name and by pictured illustration.

THE PURCHASE PRICE;

OR, THE CAUSE OF COMPROMISE

By EMERSON HOUGH

Copyright, 1913, by Emerson Hough

Yet the first words he uttered showed the voice and diction of a gentleman. "My dear captain," he began, extending his hand as he approached. "I am indeed charmed! I must claim the pleasure of having met you once—

"My dear captain, I am indeed charmed!"

two years ago, in St. Louis. Are you again on your way to the frontier?"

The tone of inquiry in his voice was just short of curious, indeed might have been called expectant. His gaze, admiring yet polite, had not wholly lost opportunity to list the attractions of this lady, whose name had not yet been given him.

The gentleman accosted declined to be thus definite, adding only, after the usual felicitations, "Yes, we are going down the river a little way on the Vernon here."

"At least, this is not your first journey down our river?"

"I wish it might be the last. The railway is opening up a new world to us. The stage coach is a thing of the past."

"I wish it might be, for me," rejoined the stranger. "Unfortunately I am obliged to go west from here over the national road to look at some lands I own out in Indiana. I very much regret it."

There was by this time yet more expectancy in his voice. He still bowed, with respectful glances bent upon the lady. No presentation came, although in the easy habit of the place and time such courtesy might perhaps have been expected.

"I had not known that your sister"—he began.

His hand thus forced, the other was obliged to reply: "No, the daughter of an old friend of mine, you see. We are traveling together for the western country. It has simply been my fortune to travel in company with the lady. I present you, my dear sir, to Miss Barron. My dear Miss Barron, this is State Senator Warville Dunwoody of Missouri. We are of opposite camps in politics."

The tall man bowed still more deeply. Meantime Josephine St. Auban in her own way had taken inventory of the newcomer. Her companion hastily sought to hold matters as they were.

"My dear Senator Dunwoody," he said, "we were just passing down to the boat to see that the luggage is aboard. With you I regret very much that your journey takes you from us."

The sudden consternation which sat upon Dunwoody's face was almost appalling. He was very willing to prolong this conversation. Into his soul there had flashed the swift conviction that never in his life had he seen a woman so beautiful as this. Yet all he could do was to smile and bow adieu.

"A fine man, that Dunwoody, ponder," commented the young captain as they parted and he turned to his "prisoner." "We'll see him on in 'Washing-ton' some day. He is strengthening his forces now against Mr. Benton out there—a strong man—a strong one and a headless."

"Of what party is he?" she inquired as though casually.

"What a man's party is in these days," was his answer, "is something hard to say. A man like Dunwoody is pretty much his own party, although the Bentonites call him a 'soft Democrat.' Hardly soft he seems; when he gets in action at the state capital of Missouri yonder. Certainly Dunwoody is for war and tumult. None of this late weak kneed compromise for him! To have his own way—that is Dunwoody's creed of life. I thank God he is not going with us now. He might want his own way with you, from the fashion of his glances. Did you see? My word!" Young Carlisle fumed a shade more than might have seemed necessary for military reasons.

"You will be disappointed. He is not going west by coach. He will be with us on the boat," said Josephine St. Auban.

When Captain Edward Carlisle made casual reference to the "weak kneed compromise" of 1850 he simply voiced a personal opinion on a theme which was in the mind of every American, and one regarded with as many minds as there were men. That political measure of the day was hated by some, admired by others. The southern states argued over it, many of the northern states raged at it. It ruled many political fortunes and made yet other fortunes.

On the deck of the steamer "at the little city of Pittsburgh, then gateway of the west, there appeared men of mixed purposes and beliefs on the questions of slavery and its extension. Some were pushing out into what now is known as Kansas, others going to take up lands in Missouri. Some were to pass south to the slave country, others north to the free lands.

CHAPTER II. The Game.

It is easily earned reputation to state that Josephine St. Auban's was a presence not to be concealed. Even such a boat as the Mount Vernon offered a total deck space so cramped as to leave secrecy or privacy well out of the question.

Apparently they were not unexpected. The ship's clerks readily yielded the way to apartments which had been secured in advance. Having seen to the luggage of his charges, whom he disposed in a good double stateroom, the leader of the party repaired to his own quarters. Tarrying no longer than to see his own luggage safely aboard he commanded one of the men to "fetch him" to the office of the captain.

"Captain Rogers," began Carlisle, "you have been advised to some extent of my plans by telegram from Washington."

The captain hesitated. "Is this with the lady's consent? Are there any charges of any kind against?"

"That is not for you to ask. She is under my care, and must not disembark until I say the word. You will kindly give her a place at my table. There must be no idle curiosity to annoy her. My errand demands secrecy and speed alike. There must be no communication between this boat and the shore, so far as this young lady is concerned. Meantime, if all is ready, it would please me mightily if we could start."

The captain pulled a bell rope. "Tell the mate to cast off," he said to the man who answered. An instant later the hoarse boom of the boat's whistles roared out their warning. Churning the stained waters into foam with her great paddles, the Mount Vernon presently swung slowly out into the narrow stream.

"Now, Captain Rogers," went on Captain Carlisle, tersely, "tell me who's aboard," and presently he began to ponder the names which, in loose fashion, the clerk assembled from his memory and his personal acquaintance.

"Erm, um!" commented the listener, "very few whom I know. Judge Clayton from the other side, below Cairo. State Senator Jones, from Belmont."

"You know Mr. Jones? Old Decline and Fall Jones. He never reads any book excepting Gibbon's 'Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire.' Always declines a drink when offered, but he's sure to fall a moment later!" Thus the smiling clerk.

Even as Carlisle left the captain's room to ascend the state he met face to face the very man whose presence he least desired. "Dunwoody," he exclaimed.

"I changed my mind at the last moment. It is far more comfortable going down by boat than it is by stage. Then the thought of the pleasure of your society on the journey." He was smiling rather maliciously.

"Yes, yes, of course," somewhat dismally.

"But now, to be frank with you, you don't seem altogether happy. Why do you want to be rid of me? What harm have I done? When are you going to introduce me as you should, to that extremely beautiful young lady who is with you?"

"My very dear sir!"

"You are not my dear sir" at all so long as you try to hoodwink me," persisted Dunwoody, still smiling. "Come, now, what are you doing here west-

"Why should she have sent me this message?"

bound with a young and charming person who is not your wife, widow, mother, daughter, fiancée or sister; who is not—

"It is within a man's rights to choose his own company and his own ways. I am not accountable, except as I choose."

The other man was studying him closely, noting his flush, his irritation, his uneasiness. "But what I am saying now is that it is cruel, unusual, inhuman and unconstitutional to be so selfish about it."

"The lady has expressed a desire to remain quite alone, my dear sir. I must bow to her will. It is her privilege to come and go as she likes."

"She may come and go as she likes?" queried Dunwoody, still smiling. There was a look on his face which caused Carlisle suddenly to turn and examine him sharply.

"Absolutely so."

"Then why should she have sent me this 'little message'?" demanded Dunwoody suddenly.

A still deeper flush spread over the young officer's telltale face. He opened and read: "If you care to aid a woman who is in trouble, come to me at room 19 when you can."

"When did you receive this?" he demanded.

"Within the moment. Her maid brought it."

"You didn't have this before, you came on board; but, of course, that wasn't possible."

Dunwoody looked at him keenly. "You have just heard me," he said. "No, I don't deny there are some things here which I can't understand. Come, let's be frank about it. You may trust me, of course. But neither sister, wife nor servant could you blame any man, especially any man who had a direct message like this, for wanting or, say, even demanding a meeting? Haven't I the right? Come, now!"

"Very good, then. To show how little you know me and how much you wrong both this lady and myself you shall meet her. Not that you have earned the right."

The Mount Vernon, favored by a good stage of water, soon cleared the narrow Monongahela channel, passed the confluence and headed down under full steam, all things promising well for a speedy and pleasant run.

On the upper deck or along the rails of the lower deck many passengers were gazing out at the varying pictures of the passing shores. Not so Carlisle. With eyes cast down he spent most of his time pacing up and down alone. Yet it was not an irresolute soul which reposed beneath the half-frigid exterior. He presently arrived upon a plan of action.

The public, too, had its rights, he concluded, and the woman as a woman had her rights also to her good fame. He must not harm her name.

Best, then, to disarm suspicion by playing the game wholly in the open. The midway meal now being announced by loud proclamation of the boat's gongs, he turned and soon rapped at the door of room 19.

Jeanne, the faithful and faithful maid who shared her mistress' fortunes, by this time had done what she could to mend her lady's appearance. Good health and youth as well as good courage fought for Josephine St. Auban as well as good sense and a philosophy of travel learned by experience in other lands. Her habiliments were such as to cause most of the feminine occupants of the boat to make careful note when she had accepted Carlisle's escort and entered the dining room. The hum of the dingy tables slackened and ceased. A score of women frowned at a score of men whose glances wandered undisturbedly. Who was she, and what?

Meantime Josephine St. Auban's own eyes were not unregarding.

"I see that my guess was quite correct," she said at length, smiling full at her guardian.

"At once he caught her thought. 'Oh, about Mr. Dunwoody,' he assented, assuming a carelessness which she read through at once. 'Yes, I met him a while ago. He has keen eyes, has he not?' he added resentfully."

"That is to say—"

"So hard hit that he threatens a duel or worse if I do not at once further his desire to pursue his acquaintance."

"Indeed?" She kept her eyes fixed on her plate. "Is that all?" she asked at length.

"Madam, you yourself could best answer your own question." He looked at her keenly, not showing his case; not telling her that Dunwoody had shown him her hasty note. Not the flicker of an eyelash betrayed her own thought. Surely, she had courage. Surely, she meant trouble.

"How delightful!" she resumed at length calmly. "Not that I weary of your company, sir, but I told you my parole was ended when we reached the boat. I told you fairly I should try to escape, and so I shall."

"Our game is somewhat desperate, madam, I admit," said he. "I scarcely know whether you are in my hands or I in yours."

"Now," she rejoined, "as to what I suggest, it is this: You shall leave the boat at Louisville or Cincinnati. Your errand is already sufficiently well done. You have got me out of Washington. Suppose we set Cincinnati as the last point of our common journey?"

"But what then for you, madam?" (To be continued.)

DINNER STORIES.

The geography class was in session and the teacher pointed a finger to the map on the classroom wall.

"Here, on one hand, we have the far-reaching country of Russia, Willie," she said, looking over her pupils and settling on one small boy at the end of the class, "what do we see on the other hand?"

Willie, hopeless with fright, hesitated a moment, and then answered, "Wars."

For the third time in the week he had been given fried bacon for his dinner when he returned from work, consequently he was not in a very good humor. During the meal his loving spouse chanced to remark: "There's a cock-crowed three times!"

His Military Record.

His name does not appear on the pension rolls, and if he had any military experience it must have been when he was married; as I understood he had a military wedding, the girl's father standing between him and the door holding a large army musket while the marriage ceremony was being performed.—Exchange.

The Sneezer.

"At whom are you looking?" demanded the young lady of the young man who obstructed her path. "Atchoo!" replied the hay fever victim, and hurried away.

Headache?—It's Your Liver.

Too Many People Take Headache Powders When a Liver Tonic is Needed.

Try Olive Tablets—the Substitute for Calomel.

Anyone who takes Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets the moment he suspects his liver or bowels, will never have headache.

There is no necessity, when you take Olive Tablets, of following them up with nasty, sickening, griping salts or castor oil, as you should after taking calomel.

Liver Tablets do not contain calomel or any other metallic drugs; they are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, sugar-coated, easy to take, and never gripe or cause weakness.

Thousands of people take one every night at bedtime just to prevent disorder of the liver, constipation, bad breath, pimples, headache, etc.

Dr. Edwards, calomel's old enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with liver and bowel troubles.

Try them for a week. Take one on retiring nightly.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." 10c and 25c per box.

RESOLIN CURED AWFUL ERUPTION

Her Face So Red And Itchy She Could Not Stand It.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 27, 1912. "I suffered awfully with skin trouble of the worst kind for about three months. My face was so red and itchy that it was impossible to stand it any longer. I wasn't able to even rest at night. It used to get me so nervous that I wasn't able to speak to anybody. I tried several other remedies in vain, until I noticed the advertisement of Resolin Soap and Resolin Ointment. I sent for samples and they helped me wonderfully. I noticed a change right away. I used Resolin Soap and Resolin Ointment for about three months, and then I was cured completely." (Signed) Miss A. Sattzman, 1142 N. Jefferson Ave.

For eighteen years Resolin has been a favorite doctor's prescription and household remedy for itching troubles, skin eruptions, pimples, blackheads, dandruff, sores, piles, etc. Stops itching instantly. IMPORTANT BILLS UP ON WEDNESDAY NEXT Five Mile Zone Bill, Which Would Affect Janesville to Be Considered.

Madison, Wis., April 14.—Wednesday will be the important day for the consideration of important legislative measures at this week's session. The first proposition to be taken up will be the five-mile zone bill. Assemblyman Roethe has offered a substitute bill which makes this measure applicable to all educational institutions in the state maintained by state money. Were this measure to pass, the cities of Madison, Oshkosh, La Crosse, Superior, Janesville, Waukesha, Chippewa Falls, Sparta, River Falls, and Stevens Point, would be voted dry. The fight in favor of the measure will be led by Assemblyman Allison and Hawn.

The second important proposition to be taken up on Wednesday will be the Peavy bill for a commission form of government for counties. When the bill was on the calendar last week without recommendation, Assemblyman Peavy offered a substitute which changes the tenor of this bill and makes its adoption optional. His bill provides for dividing the county into districts. Each commissioner shall receive from this county in payment of all his services an annual salary of $100 of the assessed valuation of the property in the county does not exceed $6,000,000. As many as seven commissioners may be elected in the county and each shall hold office for a term of two years. The board is given power to fill vacancies.

The anti-fraternity resolution, providing for an investigation, has been placed on the calendar for consideration on Thursday. On that day Assemblyman Rosa will attempt to have the resolution passed under a suspension of the rules. The fifty car limit bill comes up for final consideration on that day. It is now on the calendar for indefinite postponement, but Assemblyman Manning of Milwaukee intends to offer an amendment providing for an additional brakeman where more than fifty cars are used in the hauling of freight. Meantime the representatives of the railroad organizations are making an active canvass of the legislature to secure support for the substitute.

What He Really Means.

When a man says he has no political ambitions it generally means that he doesn't think he has any prospects worth considering.—Washington Star.

SHOWS EXPENDITURE OF LEADING STATES

Result of California Investigation Brings Out Some Interesting Facts.

Madison, Wis., April 14.—The annual report of A. L. Nye, state controller of California, just received by Secretary of State Donald, contains a compilation of expenditures of a few leading states, with the expenditures per capita. In this list Wisconsin's per capita expenditure, based on actual governmental burdens, is $14.43. Others: New York, $7.44; Massachusetts, $4.17; Michigan, $4.42; Minnesota, $4.42; California, $6.73. After all possible deductions, California's actual per capita expense is given as $5.66. Some of these comparisons are subject to qualifications based on difference in the circumstances for which funds are disbursed.

The Wisconsin state board of public affairs has made a scientific analysis of state expenditures covering a ten-year period. Wisconsin's total expenditures for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1912, were $10,581,801.80, and California's in the same period were $17,197,005.05. The state of Wisconsin paid for the support of public schools $2,355,698.38, while California spent $6,575,493.30. The Wisconsin legislature (1911) cost $160,332, as compared with $357,679.46 for that at Sacramento.

All the comparisons, it is stated, should not be taken too literally owing to differing conditions.
